Report 1

Guest Name: Dr. Geeta Joshi

Topic: Different career opportunities after BAMS

College Name: Shri Dhanwantry Ayurvedic College and Hospital, Chandigarh

Introduction: Dr. Geeta Joshi, a renowned alumna, initiated the induction series by bridging the gap between academic education and professional reality. Her session served as a foundational roadmap for the 2025 UG BAMS batch, highlighting the evolution of Ayurveda from traditional practice to a multi-billion dollar global industry.

Objective: To expand the professional horizons of newly admitted students by identifying diverse vertical and horizontal career growth opportunities in the Ayurvedic sector.

Session Highlights: Clinical & Wellness Focus: Detailed the logistics of establishing independent clinical practices, specialized Panchakarma centers, and international wellness retreats.

Institutional Roles: Explained the hierarchy within Government Ayurvedic Dispensaries and the increasing demand for BAMS professionals in corporate hospital chains.

Interactive Workshop: Conducted a unique role-exploration activity titled "If I were a...". This exercise allowed students to step into the shoes of an Ayurvedic Consultant, a Researcher, or a Health Entrepreneur, encouraging them to envision their "professional self" 10 years into the future.

Outcome: The session successfully dismantled the myth that BAMS is limited to general practice. Students emerged with a clearer understanding of how to specialize in niches like academia, medical authorship, and pharmaceutical entrepreneurship.

Report 3

Guest Name: Dr. Vivek Ahuja

Title: Success stories of Ayurveda in Action

College Name: Shri Dhanwantry Ayurvedic College and Hospital, Chandigarh

Introduction: Dr. Vivek Ahuja's session was a masterclass in the modernization of traditional wisdom. He focused on the critical intersection of classical Ayurvedic texts and modern evidence-based clinical research, providing a futuristic outlook for the new batch.

Objective: To inspire students toward clinical excellence and scientific innovation by demonstrating the successful integration of Ayurveda with modern medical protocols.

Session Highlights:

Case Studies in Oncology: Presented compelling clinical success stories where Rasayana therapy significantly improved the quality of life in integrative oncology settings.

Research-Driven Practice: Emphasized the importance of documenting clinical findings and adhering to Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) to gain global scientific recognition.

Vision Mapping: Facilitated a Vision Board creation activity. Students were guided to physically or mentally map out their research interests, intended specializations, and the specific problems in healthcare they wish to solve through Ayurveda.

Outcome: This session provided a strong motivational surge, grounding the students' theoretical education in tangible, life-saving results. It fostered a mindset that prioritizes continuous learning, documentation, and the pursuit of innovation in clinical practice.
